Pumpkin festival starts Tuesday

The Gazette staff

Circleville's annual celebration of all things pumpkin gets underway in the city's downtown area Tuesday evening.

From 5 to 10 p.m. Tuesday, organizers are offering a special festival preview evening of concessions and rides. At the Pickaway Visitors Pavilion, the festival also will offer a performance by the Pumpkin Show Band from 7 to 8 p.m.

The show officially starts Wednesday with the Foresman Chimes performing at the courthouse at 8:30 a.m. and opening ceremonies at the corner of Court and Main Street at 9 a.m.

Activities on opening day will include:

- A giant pumpkin weigh-in at 9:15 a.m.
- An Ohio Farm Bureau cooking demonstration at 11 a.m.
- A pet training demonstration at 1 p.m.
- Woodburning demonstration at 1 p.m.
- Another Farm Bureau demonstration at 2 p.m.
- Story time, presented by the Pickaway County Library, at 3 p.m.
- Little Miss Pumpkin Show parade at 3:30 p.m.
- Decorative gourd weaving demonstration at 4 p.m.

- Graham Irish dancing demonstration at 4:30 p.m.
- Little Miss Pumpkin Show judging at 4:30 p.m.
- Pumpkin Show Band concert at 6 p.m.
- Circleville High School cheerleaders at 6:45 p.m. and band concert at 7 p.m.
- Simba Jordan performing country music at 7 p.m.

- Jazzercise demonstration at 7:15 p.m.
- Miss Pumpkin Show Parade at 8 p.m.
- Miss Pumpkin Show judging at 9 p.m.

The festival runs through the weekend, and more details will be available on next week's Let's Go page. For more online, visit www.pumpkinshow.com.
