

Communi

'Learn to love' sums up the Preaching Mission

By ANDI HUMPHRIES
For The Herald

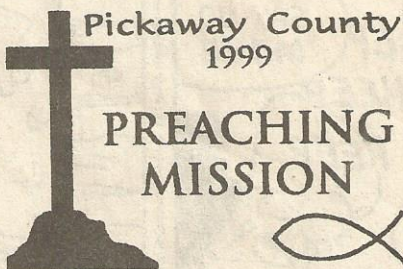

The Rev. Dr. Douglas Dunderdale concluded his four-day mission in Pickaway County Wednesday with parting words to the combined congregation gathered at The Presbyterian Church.

"Learn to love Jesus more" he instructed. Also, "learn to love people. Be intrigued with people. Love the people of God," he told the attendees.

The retired minister from the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburgh shared the wisdom of 45 years in the pulpit. "After 45 years of ministry, I still receive incredible joy" when meeting and learning to love the people of God, he said.

Dr. Dunderdale applauded the combined coordination of both the lay leadership and The Pickaway County Ministerial Association for bringing him to Circleville. He applauded the musical groups and selections. "It was a pleasure for me and Eleanor (his wife). We enjoyed our time here."

Music Wednesday night included two selections by the Pickaway Brass Quintet consisting of Clifford Kerns, director and tuba; Jeff

Mathew, trumpet; Becky Ohlinger, French horn; Laura Bethel, trumpet; and Jerry Voss, trombone. St. Joseph Church Choir sang the "Anthem" with the congregation joining in the refrain. Organist was Diana Timmons and director was Patty Immell.

Lay leadership included Anne Solovey, Karen Borland and Dan Delong. They were joined by clergy leadership the Rev. John Beers of Zion United Methodist Church Ashville; Mary Kay Wood, St. Joseph Church; the Rev. Dennis Dinger, Good Shepherd United Methodist Church; and the Rev. Dale Minor, Grace Charismatic Episcopal Church.

Sunrise Rotary provided the ushers for the final evening of the 1999 mission.