Hey gang,

I am sure at times it would appear I don't listen very well, but I hear you. I guess I was being a little aggressive at planning to start practice in June. I really miss all of you and hoped to see you sooner, but I understand your concerns. So.....let's plan for the first part of July. I will send out another email closer to that time to see how you feel then, but until then, stay safe!
