SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE

A bicentennial celebration of Circleville and Pickaway County will run today through Saturday and feature music, special sales, food and other activities for the entire family.

A full slate of events are scheduled throughout the three-day festival. Headlining the entertainment both Friday and Saturday nights is the "Bicentennial Classic Rock Reunion Show" that will include a variety of entertainers and bands who have performed in the area over the years. The program is being directed by Jeff Stonerock, who has been featured in several Pickaway County bands since the 1950s and been on stage with the likes of James Brown and The Coasters.

The headline concert features a reunion of The Stoneys and performances by such musicians as Bob Stickel, Marty Hayes, Marcus Huffman, Mike Mills and Luther Center.

Some of the other highlights of the festival include:

- A special ceremony at 1 p.m. Saturday at 166 W. Main St., featuring proclamations, serving of a special bicentennial cake and music by the Circleville Pumpkin Show Community Band and Dynamic Mention Drum Corps.
- A Downtown Business Association sidewalk sale throughout the downtown area. From 5 to 9 p.m. today at 215 N. Court St., the Third Thursday Blues, Brews & BBQ will take place with food from area restaurants and music by Ray Fuller and the Blues-rockers.
- A chance to view the Bicentennial Mural being completed at 150 W. Main St. by muralist Eric Henn. Several keepsake items will be sold next to the mural.
- Free community concerts beginning at 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday at 215 N. Court St. Friday's features
